Brief History of Okra Strut

Thank You Sponsors!

How the Strut Began

The Lake Murray-Irmo Women's Club was looking for a way to raise money to build a new library. Their answer came in a 1974 WIS Radio broadcast. Gene McKay, a personality on the morning show, had his imagination piqued by a small, downtown Irmo hardware store named The Ancient Irmese General Store.

"What were these Ancient Irmese like?" pondered McKay. Probably short people — a farming tribe who lived off okra!

That October, a modest arts and crafts sale named the Okra Strut was held inside Seven Oaks Park. The Women's Club began the long-outstanding tradition of frying and selling okra.

It wasn't until the sixth Okra Strut that the event was moved outdoors to downtown Irmo. By December 1980, the slimy green veggie had given Irmo its first library on the corner of Harbison Blvd. and St. Andrews Road.

Information contributed in part by The New Irmo News.

The Okra Strut Festival Today

Today the Twenty-eight year old festival is managed by a board of commissioners appointed by the Irmo Town Council and we are proud to say, "we are the nation's original celebration of Okra". The festival is now a two day event featuring a street dance, parade, arts and crafts, rides and amusements, petting zoo, and lots of festival food. Attendance for the 1999 Twenty-sixth celebration was estimated to be 90,000.

Money raised by recent festivals has been put back into the community by way of scholarships, purchasing Gateway signs and helping the town purchase land to build a community park. The Okra Strut commission gave the town $20,000 raised during the 1999 festival to construct a gazebo in the park.

Town of Irmo

South Carolina

WELCOMES YOU

Located off the shore of Lake Murray and only ten miles from Columbia, the capital of South Carolina, Irmo was a sleepy little town of 500 people in the early 1970's. Today with more than 12,000 residents Irmo is one of the country's most sought after places to live.

The Cherokee Indians first roamed the waterways and woodlands of this area while following the Cherokee Trail. Later German and Swiss immigrants were the first Westerners to settle the area bounded by the Broad and Saluda Rivers and extending to the Newberry county line. Germans, using land grants from the King of England, settled the Dutch Fork area in the mid 18th century. Self-sufficient farms were established in spite of the rocky, red clay that was unsuitable for plantation farming.

Jennifer Goodwin/
Lake Murray Magazine

The origin of Irmo tells the story of the railroad's influence. Irmo was incorporated in 1890 and flourished along the tracks of the Columbia, Newberry and Laurens railroads on the high ridge between the rivers. The town was named by combining the first two letters of the names of two railroad company men - C.J. Iredell and H.C. Moseley.

A quarter of a century later, the largest earthen dam in the world (at that time) was built across the Saluda River, forming Lake Murray. The dam, along with the construction of I-26 adjacent to Irmo in the late 1950's, made possible the continuing rapid growth of the greater Irmo area. The beautiful Lake Murray provides much sought after real estate along its 528 miles of shoreline and provides a recreational paradise for the residents of Irmo - truly the "Gateway to Lake Murray".

WHAT'S HAPPENING

ANNEXATION

- The Quail Valley Homeowner's Association is spearheading a drive to annex the remaining portion into the Town (currently a portion of Quail Valley resides in the Town).
- The Town is conducting a feasibility study to determine annexation strategies on Irmo Dr, Lake Murray Blvd and the remainder of St. Andrews Road.

PROJECTS

- New sidewalks are being constructed along Royal Tower, River Song, and Lord Howe Roads with a projected completion date around the end of March 2002. The Town has been approved for an additional $51,400 in Federal Enhancement Grant Funds. We are moving forward with plans to purchase and install a pedestrian bridge on West Royal Tower Road.
- The Town is developing a plan for "Summer Concerts" in the new park. Councilmen Holland and Hoots have formed an Entertainment Committee that will prepare a summer schedule. Concerts will be held on the first Sunday of each month from April through October 2002. Please forward any comments or suggestions to Councilmen Holland and/or Hoots.
- SALE !!! The Town has received a third printing of the "Irmo and Dutch Fork Legacy" books (hardcover). These centennial books cover the period 1890 to 1990 and provide a treasure trove of historical insight. You can get yours today at the Town Hall during normal business hours for only $25.00 each
